Estepona is a vibrant unspoilt town on the west of the Costa del Sol with an impressive 20km stretch of flat golden sandy beaches flanked by an attractive paseo and beach clubs. Bursting with character and plenty of history, there is San Luis Castle dating back to 1457.

Charming cobbled streets and plazas (including the main square 'Plaza de las Flores') are lined with lively cafes, bars and restaurants catering to the town's traditional Spanish and international diners alike. Located to the west is a pretty marina, which although busy in the day really comes to life at night.

Estepona literally has something for everyone, from water sports, golf and tennis to the 2000 plus animals on show at the Selwo Safari Park and horse riding at the internationally acclaimed riding school Escuela de Arte Ecuestre Costa del Sol. There are also several exclusive beach clubs and a range of restaurants catering to all different tastes along this western side of Costa del Sol.

Easily accessed via the N340 and coast road, travelling time is just 35 minutes' drive from Gibraltar and 45 minutes to Malaga international airport. The renowned Puerto Banus marina and Marbella, with their chic designer boutiques and trendy venues, are just a 15 minute drive away. Estepona has its own bus station and runs regular services connecting the Costa del Sol, including a direct coach to and from Malaga airport.

THE COSTA DEL SOL

The Costa del Sol 'sunshine coast' is the only location in Europe where you are guaranteed over 300 days of sunshine each year. Since the 1950s this spectacular Mediterranean coastline has been considered to be a glamorous Spanish alternative to St.Tropez and the playground of the rich and famous. Today the Costa del Sol offers celebrities, expats and visitors the best of both worlds; the relaxed mañana lifestyle against the backdrop of the blue flag beaches, and the convenience of state of the art communications, international travel links, excellent hospitals, vibrant towns, Michelin star restaurants, high octane nightlife, shopping and a warm Spanish welcome. Add to this some of the world's most impressive properties and you start to see its enduring appeal.
